

Good Morning,

We know that there is a lot going on getting your student as well as yourself settled into our new routines. Our Social Worker, Ms. Steiner, sent me a link to a free webinar that is running today that she thinks may be very useful in helping you to establish a positive working environment for your child and your family during this new experience.

ADDitude Magazine is focused on the needs of children with ADHD, but their suggestions on how to work through this situation will apply to ALL families. As you will see below, the webinar is called "Coronavirus Crash Course for Parents: Keeping Kids with ADHD in 'Study Mode' While Home from School". Ms. Steiner reminded me that ADHD parenting tips are helpful for all families, and really show the "best practice" way of working through challenging situations.

Although this is time sensitive - the free webinar is happening today at 2:00pm - if you register for the event beforehand, you don't have to "attend" in real time. The registration will allow you to come back at your convenience to listen to the webinar when the timing is right for you. But you must register to do this.

We are all here for you trying to make this experience educationally meaningful, and as low stress as possible.

https://www.additudemag.com/webinar/coronavirus-homeschooling-parent-strategies/?utm\_source=eletter&utm\_medium=email&utm\_campaign=webinar\_march\_2020&utm\_content=031920&goal=0\_d9446392d6-465afd89be-295016989